Dear Supervisors,

My name is Mary Holtam, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. I am a student at the University of California, Santa Barbara and a member of the UCSB Surf Team. Everyday, I enjoy our local beaches and the coastline to surf. I believe this is a magical stretch of California and we should protect it.

Please protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Katy and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp.

I have lived in Santa Barbara for a couple of years now and I have been incredibly involved in the Surfrider foundation and the EDC. Student members and community members alike are worried about the transfer of permits and that Sable can likely not afford to cover the cost of remediation if or when a major spill occurs. The public should not have to pay to clean up another spill.

Protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Sincerely,

I would also like to emphasize that I understand that this is not a simple decision. We must prioritize a just transition in which affected workers are given adequate resources to support themselves and their families.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Nateal Jackson, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. The board should deny the continuation of the use of this pipeline.

For starters, the area surrounding the pipe is still recovering from the last oil spill caused by this pipeline. This has caused immense damage to the animals in the area, oceanic and human alike. The quality of our water has gone down, and tar scatters our beaches.

I remember being so excited to attend UCSB and to go to the beach all the time. I was devastated the first time I went to the beach and left with tar spots all over my feet. I've had surfboards, wetsuits and shoes all damaged by the oil. It's been 10 years and the damages from the last spill can still be seen.

Furthermore, I know of the horrible health complications it has had on the sea animals in the areas, even to this day.

The thought of reopening the pipeline that has such lasting effects is unbearable.

STOP SABLE.

Sincerely,
~Nateal Jackson

As a resident of Santa Barbara, I am worried about the likelihood of another oil spill given the unsafe conditions Sable intends to operate under. Especially given Sable likely cannot afford and has not planned for paying for the remediation to return our shores to their natural beauty. The money that will pad their selfish pockets is not worth the damage to this beautiful place especially given our reputation as a beautiful destination and our reliance on tourism. Our beauty is characteristic of Santa Barbara and I do not think that should be thrown away for a quick buck. It is not worth the risk.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Tessa Sapiro, and I am deeply concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. This pipeline poses an extremely significant risk to the delicate ecosystems of the Santa Barbara coastline and the safety of nearby communities. The reinstallation of this pipeline blatantly disregards the expressed concerns of local residents and the rights of the communities that rely on the shoreline for their livelihoods and way of life. The devastating oil spill that impacted Santa Barbara in 1969 remains one of the most catastrophic environmental disasters in history, causing irreversible damage to marine life and coastal habitats. Even today, years later, we continue to find remnants of oil washed up on beaches like Sands Beach, a stark reminder of nature's ongoing suffering. If we truly care about the health and safety of our oceans and coastal environments, we must question the priorities that drive funding decisions—priorities that favor large corporations and economic greed over environmental preservation and public welfare. We must advocate for policies that protect our natural resources, prioritize safety over profit, and respect the voices of those most affected by these hazardous decisions.

Thank you so much,
Tessa Sapiro

Hello,

My name is Alona Saffen, and I am highly concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp.

I am an undergraduate student studying Environmental Studies at UC Santa Barbara. I am confident that restarting the use of the pipeline can lead to detrimental effects to our beautiful county, negatively impacting our coastal environment. Santa Barbara's ocean is an essential part of our community, supporting marine biodiversity, tourism, and local livelihood. We have already experienced the devastating effects of past oil spills, and we cannot risk the potential of repeating history.

Restarting the pipeline is completely the opposite of what Santa Barbara has to offer. Instead, Santa Barbara should focus on sustainable solutions to boost economy and growth of the county.

Thank you for your time. I strongly believe that our county can do better. That is what our planet needs.

Best regards,
Alona Saffen

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Annalise Williams, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. I have always a deep respect and love for the ocean. As someone that goes to school on the beach, grew up on the beach, wants to advocate for the beach once I graduate from university, this is deeply affecting myself and others. Did you know the Santa Barbara Channel is one of the most biodiverse waters in the entire world? The restart of this pipeline would be detrimental to biodiversity and harm the ecosystems that depend on Santa Barbara's oceans. It would seriously intervene in many of Santa Barbara's residents' relationship with the ocean and prevent any future connection and development of the ocean.

The Board of Supervisors should deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez Unit, POPCO Gas Plant, and Las Flores Pipelines. Sable's actions reflect a record of non-compliance and unsafe operations (disregarding cease and desist orders, failure to apply for necessary permits, failure to notify state lands commission before conducting well-resting activities, $18 million penalty for unpermitted and destructive operations, criminal charges filed by District A cronney, etc...). Sable likely cannot afford to cover the cost of remediation if/when another major spill occurs. The public should not have to pay to clean up another spill.

Protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Sincerely,
Annalise Williams

Dear Supervisors,

My name is June McNally, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. I am concerned because Sable has a strong correlation to a record of non-compliance and unsafe operations. If another oil spill occurs, Sable likely cannot afford to remediate the damage it would cause. Additionally, the board could not approve the transfer of permits from Exxon to Sable because they have not met the conditions of the permits. Lastly, Sable is currently pursuing off-shore oil barging, which is a direct violation of the SYU Final Development Permit. In conclusion, it is our duty together to protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Sincerely,

June McNally

Dear Supervisors,

The Santa Barbara Coastline is near and dear to my heart. We need to fight to protect this stretch of coast to prevent another tragedy from happening, one that impacts not only the ecosystems, but the local people and tourism as well. Some of my most favorite memories have been here at the beach, surfing, building community, and working in the water. I fear this will all be lost if the corroded pipeline reopens.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Courtney Chin, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp.

Joining the Santa Barbara community by becoming a UCSB student was always my dream as a surfer and ocean lover. I'll never forget the first time I was in the ocean here and experienced tar all over my feet and body. Offshore oil drilling should not affect our lives in this way. It was even more heartbreaking to learn about the marine mammals and ecosystems that are also affected in this way.

Sables actions reflect a record of non-compliance and unsafe operations (disregarding cease and desist orders, failure to apply for necessary permits, failure to notify state lands commission before conducting well-testing activities, $18 million penalty for unpermitted and destructive operations, criminal charges filed by District Attorney).

Dear supervisors,

My name is Hector, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. As it stands now, Sable is not in a position to cover the cost of remediation when another oil spill inevitably occurs. The burden of a spill should not fall to the public. The ecological, financial and emotional damage that the transfer entails will have far reaching implications for years to come. And personally, I'm tired of the state of things as they are, we live in such a beautiful area and the oil rigs are an eyesore that stick out like a sore thumb.

We have to Protect the safety and future of Californians by not allowing Sable offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Marielle, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. I'm a student at UCSB and I spend a lot of time in and around the ocean—I particularly enjoy snorkeling and freediving at coal oil point, where this region's beauty and biodiversity is on full display. I'm worried that restarting the sable pipeline could cause harm to the ecosystem and the surrounding campus community, especially after what happened in the 2015 Refugio oil spill. This company has a past history of not maintaining these oil pipelines in a responsible manner, and allowing sable to reopen will set a precedent for other oil companies to open new rigs and refineries of their own, increasing the chance of future spills. Protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Sincerely,
Marielle

I am a senior at UC Santa Barbara and have spent my years here studying the environment within in a program founded upon the tragedy of the Santa Barbara oil spill in 1969. To prevent another spill like this one and the Refugio Spill in 2015, the Board of Supervisors should deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez Unit, POPCO Gas Plant, and Las Flores Pipelines. I speak on the behalf of not only myself, but my student organizations, Surfrider and Gauchos Go Green. I want the students after me to get to play in the ocean and feel the love of this environment the way I have. I want my children to grow up in a world where corporate interests do not hold greater power than that of the earth, the sea, and the people.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Kylan Hobart, and I am an Isla Vista resident extremely concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. Sable has shown time and time again that they have no regard for the safety and health of the Santa Barbara coast through their unpermitted construction in sensitive habitats, their well-testing without notifying state lands commission, and the criminal charges as well as 18 million dollar fine from the California Coastal Commission. The Board of Supervisors needs to act in the best interest of Santa Barbara residents and deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez Unit, POPCO Gas Plant, and Las Flores Pipelines. Sable does not have the funds to pay to decommission the facilities if they cannot restart them, nor do they have the funds to cover the cost of an oil spill that will inevitably occur, considering their reckless behavior and lack of adequate safety measures. Allowing Sable to transfer the permits would be a complete disregard for the health and safety of the residents who make up Santa Barbara County. Please consider the overwhelming evidence against Sable and vote against the transfer of permits.

Thank you.

This pipeline will put so many important ecosystems at risk of complete destruction along the Santa Barbara coastline, a place that so many are fighting to protect from climate change and other human caused damage. Dear Supervisors,

The Board of Supervisors should deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez Unit, POPCO Gas Plant, and Las Flores Pipelines because Santa Barbara does NOT want oil!

As elected officials you should listen to the communities concerns about our wildlife, culture, and net-zero carbon goals.

Ask yourself who these oil permits will benefit? The oil from this pipeline will not save lives, but it could kill many; it could kill the lives of future human generations, the current and future lives of marine organisms, and kill the lives of those sustained by the hope that the world can be green.

Please listen to those of us who want to solve problems, not benefit from them.

I am deeply involved in ocean conservation and coastal wildlife research and whole-heartedly understand the grave consequences that the reinstatement of fracking has on our environment. I am currently researching marine life migration patterns off the coast of Santa Barbara. Sable's oil pipeline is detrimental to my research as well as many other of my colleagues, as they have a known history of non-compliance and unsafe operations. I, as well as many others, simply cannot trust Sable to perform safe operations, as any oil spills will completely compromise our year-long data. Please take this into consideration, thank you for your time.

From the waves, to the marine wildlife, to the beautiful sunsets. It's my home away from home. If the Sable pipeline would become active again and offshore drilling would start, I can already see the future news headlines. "Pipeline off the shore of Goleta ruptures causing massive oil spill, damage determined to be catastrophic for wildlife and surrounding habitat." It happened before and it could very well happen again. I don't want to see the place that I have grown to love become polluted and harmed. It's preventable and we can stop this from happening now! California is transitioning away from fossil fuels for energy purposes and disabling sable can be a positive sign to the world that we are (SB) starting this switch to cleaner renewable energy. The funds that would go into that cleanup would also be a fortune. Please and Thank you vote No!!!!

Dear County Supervisors,

I am asking you not to approve the transfer of oil and gas permits to Sable Offshore Corp. They have already demonstrated their arrogant behavior by all the unpermitted work they have already done on our sensitive Gaviota coast. They don't care about our environment they just care about how much money they can make and then move on. Don't want to get personal but the CEO James Flores lives in a 30,000 Square foot house in Houston. I personally know people who know him and the observation is that he thinks he can always buy his way in and out of anything. Tell James and Sable not this time. Take it somewhere else. Please help us stop them for oil and gas production on our fragile coast. I live on the Gaviota coast and enjoy all it's beautiful unique qualities it has to offer. They don't make any more of this type of environment.

Thank you

Dear Santa Barbara County Board of Supervisors,

I live and recreate minutes away from the waters that would be impacted by another oil spill. I don't want this resource to be polluted again. SAY NO to oil extraction and transportation. Say YES TO CLEAN / GREEN ENERGY.

Dear Supervisors,

Please DENY the transfer of permits to Sable.

Sable has not demonstrated the skills, training, and financial resources to operate safely and responsibly, especially in light of $18 million in fines and 21 criminal charges filed against the company.

Sable has proven to our community time and time again it cannot be trusted to operate these facilities safely or responsibly.

Sincerely,

Anyone driving north of Santa Barbara has seen the destruction wrought by Sable Offshore as it prepares to re-use the decrepit pipeline that failed 15 years ago and is too corroded to be repaired. Sable Offshore is showing that it doesn't care, and it puts profits over doing things the right way.

Sable Offshore has proven it cannot be trusted. Its record speaks for itself:

- $18 million fine from the California Coastal Commission — the largest fine ever imposed by the Commission.
- State Attorney General lawsuit for illegal waste discharges that damaged local creeks.
- 21 criminal charges, including five felonies, filed by the District Attorney for water quality violations and ecological harm.
- Multiple cease-and-desist orders ignored and unpermitted damage to sensitive coastal habitats.

Deny the transfer of permits from Exxon to Sable!!
Thank you,

Subject: Concerns Regarding Sable Offshore Corp's Pipeline Permit Transfer

Dear Supervisors ,

I hope this message finds you well. My name is Li-An Lim, and I serve as the Environmental Affairs Coordinator at UCSB's External Vice President of Local Affairs office. I am writing to express my deep concern regarding the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp and the application for the transfer of permits for the Santa Ynez unit, POPCO Gas Plant, and Las Flores Pipelines.

It is imperative that the Board of Supervisors denies Sable's application. Sable has not met the necessary conditions outlined in the permits, particularly concerning critical corrosion protection technology, which is essential for the safe operation of the pipeline. Approving the transfer of permits from Exxon to Sable would pose significant risks, especially considering the company's questionable practices and lack of transparency.

As a representative of the concerned students in Isla Vista, I must emphasize our collective desire to avoid a repeat of the 2015 Refugio oil spill. The potential for environmental damage is imminent if these permits are transferred without ensuring compliance with safety standards.

I urge you to consider the implications of this decision carefully and advocate for the protection of our community and the environment.

Thank you for your attention to this critical matter.

Sincerely,

Li-An Lim (she/her)

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Lana Lippe. I am a local student at UCSB worried about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable. As someone whose life revolves around the ocean I know how important the health of our coastal ecosystem is to everyone throughout Goleta and Santa Barbara county. Sable has repeatedly engaged in unsafe operations while showing little regard for accountability or the oversight of authorized safety agencies.

The Board cannot approve the transfer of permits from Exxon to Sable because Sable has shown itself to not be a cooperative and responsible company. They have neither the funds nor the permits to run such an impactful project that could affect so much of our community.

Protect the safety and future of our California coasts by not allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara county.

Sincerely,
Lana Lippe

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Celeste DeLucchi and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. I am concerned because restarting the use of a corroded pipeline will very likely cause another oil spill that will devastate the local marine ecosystem and cause extreme damage to our beaches. Sable's previous actions reflect a history of non-compliance and unsafe operations, as well as not being able to afford the cost of remediation if and when another spill occurs. I care greatly about our beaches and coastlines and I hope that you choose to protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Sincerely,
Celeste DeLucchi

I am urging the county board of supervisors to deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez unit, las flores pipelines and offshore processing facilities to Exxon. I believe this transfer would place the environment and public health at risk.

I cannot attend the hearing but again I urge the board to deny this transfer.

Best wishes and thank you for all your hard work, Helena Hill

Subject: Sable Permits/Santa Ynez Unit/pipeline

The Board of Supervisors must deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez Unit, Las Flores Pipelines, and onshore processing facilities.

- The County's ordinance (Chapter 25B) prohibits a transfer of permits that would place the environment and public health at risk.
- Sable's record makes clear the company is either unwilling or unable to follow the law and operate safely. Within a mere few months and before even restarting:
  - The California Coastal Commission fined Sable a record $18 million penalty;
  - The state Attorney General filed a lawsuit accusing Sable of illegally discharging waste into streams and habitats;
  - The District Attorney filed 21 criminal charges against the company, including five felonies;
  - The State Lands Commission Chair publicly questioned "Sable's willingness to be a transparent operator" due to its "willful disregard for the directives of regulatory agencies";
  - The State Fire Marshal sent Sable a notice regarding noncompliance with the State Waiver requirements for the pipelines; and
  - Sable's own investors filed a federal lawsuit accusing the company of misleading investors about restarting production to boost its stock price before a public offering.
- Sable has not shown that it has the financial capacity to cleanup an oil spill or abandon the facilities.

The suits and public hearings have made it clear there is only one responsible way to handle this matter. That is to deny the permit transfers.

Attention: Santa Barbara County Supervisors

I reside in Santa Barbara county and care about our environment. The handwriting is on the wall: It's perfectly obvious that Sable does not have the skills, training, or financial resources to operate these dangerous oil facilities. Nor do they have any moral scruples about the environment and climate change whatsoever. They care only about profits. You should deny them any and all permits to operate.

CivicHub

Dear Supervisors,

I am writing to urge you to approve the permit transfer of the Santa Ynez Unit (SYU) assets and Pacific Offshore Pipeline Company (POPCO) facilities to Sable Offshore.

From the start, Sable has been committed to supporting the people of Santa Barbara County and ensuring that all restart preparations and repairs met or exceeded requirements.

Sable's facilities provide hundreds of skilled, family-sustaining jobs, many filled by local residents. This includes unionized operating engineers, laborers, Teamsters and welders/pipefitters. Once operational, Sable estimates creating an additional 300 jobs with family-sustaining wages.

Sable's project has already created an economic ripple that positively impacts small and local businesses that support construction and drilling operations. Additionally, Sable's project will benefit Santa Barbara County, with an estimated $5 million in annual tax revenue.

Sable has invested tens of millions of dollars and thousands of labor hours to make the pipeline system as safe and modern as any in the country. Sable continues to work diligently with the State of California to safely and responsibly resume petroleum transportation through the Las Flores Pipeline System in accordance with the Federal consent decree.

The Sable team is comprised of seasoned oil and gas operators with the skills and training necessary to operate the facilities safely. The management and executive team have worked together in the Santa Barbara area for more than 20 years. Upon acquiring the systems, they immediately got to work ensuring all employees and contractors received adequate cross training and also to revise their well-established protocols and practices to meet or exceed all applicable local, state and federal regulations.

With California's gas prices on the rise, and state refineries on the brink of closure, there is one clear, easy, and safe solution – Sable's Santa Ynez Unit and Las Flores Pipeline System. Sable represents the only immediate opportunity California has to bring additional crude online, stabilize supply and lower consumer gasoline prices. But this won't be possible without the permit transfer.

The Santa Barbara County Planning Commission voted to approve Sable's permit transfer a year ago. I am respectfully asking you to honor that.

Sincerely,

Wilmer De Mira

Dear Santa Barbara County Supervisors,

Please deny the transfer of permis from Exxon to Sable Offshore Corp.-the Texas company threatening our coast and communities with the restart of three aging offshore platforms, two onshore facilities, and the same pipeline that failed 10 years ago causing the devastating oil spill on the Gaviota Coast.

The company has proven to our community time and time again it cannot be trusted to operate these facilities safely or responsibly. Sable has continuously shown disregard for the law, including ignoring multiple cease-and-desist orders from the California Coastal Commission and digging up sensitive habitats without permits.

- The Board of Supervisors must deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez Unit, Las Flores Pipelines, and onshore processing facilities.
- The County's ordinance (Chapter 25B) prohibits a transfer of permits that would place the environment and public health at risk.

Thank you for your consideration to this urgent matter impacting Santa Barbara County.

Dear Board of Supervisors,

Please deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez Unit, Las Flores Pipelines, and onshore processing facilities.

The County's ordinance (Chapter 25B) prohibits a transfer of permits that would place the environment and public health at risk.

That is precisely the situation here. Within a mere few months and before even restarting:

o

The California Coastal Commission fined Sable a record $18 million penalty;

o

The state Attorney General filed a lawsuit accusing Sable of illegally discharging waste into streams and habitats;

o

The District Attorney filed 21 criminal charges against the company, including five felonies;

o

The State Lands Commission Chair publicly questioned "Sable's willingness to be a transparent operator" due to its "willful disregard for the directives of regulatory agencies";

o

The State Fire Marshal sent Sable a notice regarding noncompliance with the State Waiver requirements for the pipelines; and

o

Sable's own investors filed a federal lawsuit accusing the company of misleading investors about restarting production to boost its stock price before a public offering.

It's clear Sable lacks the skills, training, or financial resources to operate these dangerous oil facilities.

Thank you for denying their application.
