

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS DESIGNATING THE
NORTH JAMESON LANE BIKEPATH IN MONTECITO AS THE "BARRY SIEGEL BIKEPATH"

WHEREAS, after a long career in aerospace engineering which concluded as Systems Director for the Global Positioning System satellite navigation system, and an appointment by the Mayor of Los Angeles to his advisory committee on rapid transit, the community of Montecito in 1993 welcomed its newest resident and champion of sound transportation planning, Barry Siegel; and

WHEREAS, then First District Supervisor Naomi Schwartz enlisted Barry to help in crafting community-oriented projects on the Highway 101 Task Force where his passion, commitment and brilliance became recognized standards associated with all his work; and

WHEREAS, Barry continued to demonstrate leadership and a distinct ability to bridge people's diverse opinions through his work as the Chair of the City of Santa Barbara's Transportation and Circulation Committee, the Montecito Association Board of Directors and Chair of its Land Use Committee, and the Board of Directors of the Coalition for Sustainable Transportation; and

WHEREAS, Barry would devour stacks of government reports, findings and studies miraculously distilling complex ideas into basic concepts the average person could actually understand and setting the stage for his now legendary Siegel Report on the Dilbert-like antics of the Santa Barbara County Association of Governments (SBCAG); and

WHEREAS, the Siegel Report explained the inexplicable and served to make SBCAG more accessible and accountable by describing the elaborate maneuvers which dictate how and where transportation funding is spent; and

WHEREAS, Barry's reputation for doing his homework would send shudders through a room as he grilled public agency staff and elected officials alike with his signature grin and Socratic style of questioning; and

WHEREAS, among Barry's many concrete accomplishments our region can now enjoy the North Jameson Lane Bikepath.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED, that this Board does proclaim the North Jameson Lane Bikepath in the community of Montecito to be the "Barry Siegel Bikepath" in recognition of the lifelong contribution made by Barry Siegel to rational, balanced transportation planning in Santa Barbara County, the State of California and the United States of America.

Passed and adopted by the Board of Supervisors of Santa Barbara County, State of California, this 15th day of April 2008, by unanimous vote of all members present.
