Summary Text:

Montecito Fire Protection District has adopted by ordinance, building standards relating to fire and panic safety that are more stringent than those adopted by the State Fire Marshal and contained in the California Residential Code and the California Building Standards Code. No ordinance adopted by a fire protection district shall be effective unless ratified by the County where the ordinance will apply. The county may ratify, modify or deny any such ordinance.

Background:

On January 22, 2014, the Montecito Fire Protection District adopted Ordinance No. 2013-01 which adopted by reference and amended the 2013 California Fire Code that prescribes regulations governing conditions hazardous to life and property from fire, hazardous materials or explosion. The Ordinance also provides for the issuance of permits for hazardous uses or operations and establishes a Bureau of Fire Prevention. Further, the Ordinance amends section R313 of the California Residential Code pertaining to the installation of automatic fire sprinkler systems in existing townhouses and one and two family dwellings, and amends section 1505 of the 2007 California Building Code pertaining to roofing requirements; these amendments are more restrictive than the requirements contained in the State Codes.

Health and Safety Code Section 13869.7 provides that a fire protection district may adopt building standards relating to fire and panic safety that are more stringent than those building standards adopted by the State Fire Marshal and contained in the California Building Standards Code. More stringent building standards are contained in Montecito Fire Protection District's Ordinance No. 2013-01. The related findings are in section 12 of the Ordinance.

Pursuant to Health and Safety Code Section 13869.7, Montecito Fire Protection District has forwarded Ordinance 2013-01 to the County and has requested ratification by the Board of Supervisors. (January 29, 2014 Letter and Ordinance 2013-01 are attached). The Board may ratify, modify or deny the adopted ordinance and transmit its determination to the District within 15 days of its determination. Any modification or denial of an adopted ordinance shall include a written statement describing the reasons for any modifications or denial. Montecito Fire Protection District's Ordinance is not effective unless ratified by the Board of Supervisors.

Copies of the Ordinance were provided by the Fire District to Supervisor Salud Carbajal, the County Building Official and County Fire Marshal on or about November 6, 2013, 2013. No written comments were returned to the Fire District.
