Project Title: Participation in Regional Energy Network (REN)

Project Description: The California Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has made available an opportunity for local governments to submit proposals to receive rate-payer funding through an organizational structure known as a Regional Energy Network (REN), whereby local governments are considered “Program Administrators” for certain types of energy efficiency programs. Rate-payer funding is considered the largest and most accessible form of external funding to support energy efficiency programs necessary to meet the County’s Energy and Climate Action Plan goals. Given that only one REN may operate within any particular boundary, participating in a REN will have lasting impacts on how rate-payer funding is allocated to Santa Barbara County for energy efficiency programs. Santa Barbara County is considering participating in a joint REN proposal with Ventura and San Luis Obispo Counties.
