I am writing to urge you to deny the transfer of drilling permits from Exxon to Sable. There are many layers of harm that occur from oil and gas extraction, the most obvious one being damage to our environment. We simply cannot continue this and live on this earth. In addition, Sable has shown itself to be a callous and selfish organization, without the resources as well as the will to clean up its messes and follow the law. Please reject the request of Sable to transfer the permits. It's so important.

Thank you,

Dear Santa Barbara County Supervisors,

I urge you to reject Sable's application to transfer permits from Exxon. Sable is not capable of following the law and environmental protection regulations and has willfully ignored them. It has ignored cease and desist orders and been fined $18 million by the California Coastal Commission. It is under indictment by the California State Attorney General for breaking environmental regulations and the Santa Barbara County District Attorney has filed 15 criminal indictments. Sable has proved it is not to be trusted with our environment, health and safety.

Sable needs a new coastal development permit to proceed with any further development work in the coastal zone. A new Coastal Development Permit (CDP) for the repair, reactivation, or maintenance of idled facilities like the Santa Ynez Unit that the pipeline is part of is necessary.

Thank you,

Ravid and Arlene Raphael

As a concerned resident of Santa Barbara County I'm writing to urge you to deny the transfer of Exxon's oil and gas permits to Sable Offshore Corp. Sable has continuously shown disregard for the law, ignoring multiple cease-and-desist orders from the California Coastal Commission and digging up sensitive habitats without permits. Sable's work in Santa Barbara County has resulted in a record $18 million fine from the Coastal Commission, a state Attorney General lawsuit accusing Sable of illegally discharging waste into streams and habitats, and 21 criminal charges files against Sable by the District Attorney, including five felonies. Sable has proven to our community time and time asgain that it cannot be trusted to operate these facilities safely or responsibly. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter.

Kindest regards,

How can we allow Sable to start transporting oil for Exxon.

My reasons are

Did we forget the 1969 & 2015 oil spills?

2 incidents is enough and shows a third is a strong possibility for an aging pipeline.

Sable is not replacing the pipeline to current standards, just doing a Band-Aid.

We need Green Energy in our county not black tar on our beaches.

Solar/wind is less expensive form of energy, we are delaying the migration to these cleaner and less costly forms of energy.

This pipeline is now a known terrorist target.

Dear Members of the Board:

I am writing today to urge you to VOTE NO ON THE TRANSFER OF PERMITS FROM EXXON TO SABLE.

By way of background, I am a local resident who first hand experienced the damaging impacts of the Refugio Oil Spill, personally witnessing massive damage to the coastal environment from just north of Refugio all the way down the coast. I watched as the oil spewed into the ocean, saw birds covered in oil, and saw remnants of this spill both in ocean waters and along various beaches from Refugio to El Capitan to Naples for YEARS after the last spill. This spill should serve as a strong reminder of the dangers these pipelines pose.

It has therefore been deeply disturbing to personally witness the rogue work of Sable, particularly over the past year+. I frequently drive the 101 along the Gaviota coast, both for work and for recreation, and I have personally observed their teams working in the area, often in the early morning hours and on weekends, seemingly in an attempt to hide their actions. Sable's violations of the Water Code and RWQCB's directives are part of a broader pattern of disregarding state law and regulation, and this should totally disqualify them from operating in our County.

Sable's conduct speaks for itself: they have brazenly broken County and State laws, and shown a tremendous level of disregard for the local community and the rule of law. Therefore, the proposed transfer from Exxon to Sable should be blocked.

Sincerely,

Brandon Sparks-Gillis
Solvang

On November 4, the Santa Barbara County Board of Supervisors will decide whether to transfer Exxon's oil and gas permits to Sable Offshore Corp., who plans to restart three aging offshore platforms, two onshore processing facilities, and the same pipeline that failed 10 years ago causing the devastating oil spill on the Gaviota Coast.

I encourage you to deny this transfer of oil permits to Sable Offshore Corp. This company has consistently ignored its moral and legal responsibility to conduct safe operations in our county. It is facing numerous legal challenges and has repeatedly denied its actions are illegal, harm or potentially harm our environment. But loses in our courts.

Please do the right thing for the people and environment of Santa Barbara County.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Ainsley Castillo and I am currently a UCSB sophomore, majoring in Environmental Studies and Global Studies. I am deeply concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp from both a legal and environmental perspective. I highly encourage and will support the decision to deny Sable to ability to do this because of the potential costs to our incredible ocean and environment. Along with this, Sable does not have the adequate resources to safely restart this pipeline in the first place and it is putting public land at risk by allowing them to do so. Sable is getting desperate and resorting to their last option of offshore oil barging, which outright violates the terms of the SYU Final Development Permit. To add on, Sable as a company is in a horrible place with many important organizations and is dealing with an $18 million dollar fine at the same time. Personally, I have zero trust in a company that is dealing with so much controversy and that is on the verge of bankruptcy. Allowing Sable to continue with this Pipeline poses extreme danger to the amazing environment we are blessed to be surrounded by and it is up to us to protect it by denying them. Thank you so much for your consideration and time!

Best,

Ainsley Castillo

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Lila Werland, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. They have had a genuine disregard for following the process of starting the oil pipeline again, and as a community member, I am extremely worried about what giving them a permit means for the environment. We want the County to consider Sable's lacking in financials, operational capacity, and non-compliance with existing permit conditions. Seeing how terrible the 2015 oil spill was for the California Coast is a main reason why so many community members are so worried, as so often oil companies don't clean up or invest in the clean up properly. According to Admin Draft EIR/EIS: Restarting the Las Flores Pipeline System could result in a spill every year, and a rupture every four years, leading to an oil spill twice the size of the 2015 Refugio Oil Spill. These predictions are so possible and probable. Therefore, it would be irresponsible for the County to approve the permit transfers.

Best,
Lila Werland

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Kierra Miller, and I am highly concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore corporation. This same pipeline has caused detrimental damage to our fragile marine ecosystem and coastlines in the past and I believe it will continue to do so in the future if given the opportunity. Here are a few more reasons to consider before making a decision.

- Sable's likely cannot afford to cover the cost of remediation if/when another major oil spill occurs. This cost should not be left to public and community members.
- A permit transfer should require a CEQA review.

The world we currently live in is ever changing and climate change is affecting everyone and everything in a variety of ways. The restart of this pipeline would push any positive efforts back and create an abundance of more issues and complications that would likely not be seen until future generations are forced to deal with the consequences. I urge you to please consider the voices of the public and the Santa Barbara community while making this decision. This is not a decision to be made lightly and the opinions of those living here are the most important.

Protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County, CA.

Sincerely,

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Melody Pederson, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp.

My concerns:

- Sable is actively pursuing offshore oil barging, which would violate the terms of the SYU Final Development Permit.
- Sable likely cannot afford to cover the cost of remediation if/when another major spill occurs.
- Sable's actions reflect a record of non-compliance. They are trying to appeal to the Trump administration
- It would take 1.7 billion dollars for their plan, and they're already behind on repaying loans to Exxon.

My personal reasons:

- I love Santa Barbara and enjoy swimming and paddle-boarding in the ocean here. It would deeply sadden me if Sable were built in our community. I care deeply about protecting our marine environments and addressing the broader issues of environmental protection and climate change.
- We've already experienced the devastating impacts of an oil spill in Santa Barbara, and Sable—an outside, Texas-based company—has shown itself to be untrustworthy and unconcerned with the health of our local environment.

Please protect the interests of the Santa Barbara community over the profit-driven interests of Sable.

Sincerely,

We cannot allow them to harm our ocean and sea life. Sable is actively pursuing offshore oil barging, which would violate the terms of the SYU Final Development Permit. We can't let them get away with hurting our defenseless sea life and actively destroy the beaches we recreate at. If Sable is allowed these permits, there will be environmental consequences and the people of Santa Barbara can not and will not stand for this. I do not want this pipeline running and I don't trust Sable, a company that isn't based in CA. The environmental impact is not worth any money or resources gained from this restart.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Ruby Clancy, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp.

I, and many of my peers, am aware of the risks associated with transferring the permits to Sable. Should another spill occur, Sable does not have the funds for proper remediation. The company's history of disobeying the law and disregarding our concerns, along with our strong belief that Sable will not be able to appropriately deal with issues in the future, is extremely alarming.

On a more personal note, I am a 20 year old resident of Santa Barbara. I feel a deep sense of appreciation for the environment, as well as an equally strong concern for protecting it. It's very disheartening to see organizations such as Sable—a Texas based company—to have such little regard for our natural environment.

I urge you to take responsibility and deny the permits. Protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Audrey McDonald, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore. As a Santa Barbara resident, this decision is reminiscent of the 1970 oil spill. This creates fear in me about how Santa Barbara will ecologically and economically bounce back if another oil spill were to occur. Santa Barbara is such a special place filled with endemic and native plants and animals that make Santa Barbara so special. Sable is a Texas-based company; it is not a Santa Barbara-based company, which I feel is not beneficial for our county.

In addition, Sable has repeatedly had unsafe operations, such as disregarding cease and desist orders, failure to comply with necessary permits, failure to notify the state lands commission before conducting well-testing activities, and the list goes on and on.

I would like you to consider protecting the safety and future of the Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Robin Odega, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp.

In the past, there was a huge oil spill that negatively affected the people and animals here in Santa Barbara, and was extremely difficult to pay for and clean up. With Sable trying to get a permit to restart the oil facilities at the Santa Ynez Unit, I as a person who lives here am very concerned with the environmental, social and economic issues that this will cause. Sable, which is borrowing money from ExxonMobil and therefore not making any money themselves, cannot afford to cover the cost of remediation if and when another major spill occurs. The residents of Santa Barbara, I included, should not have to pay to clean up another spill.

Also, Sable is a problematic entity in itself. Their actions reflect a record of non-compliance and unsafe operations (disregarding cease and desist orders, failure to apply for necessary permits, an $18 million penalty, etc.), and therefore are deemed malicious, self-centered, irresponsible, inconsiderate, and extremely untrustworthy. As someone who lives here, I simply do not want an oil pipeline by my home, especially from a shady company like Sable.

Lastly, like I said earlier I just don't want a pipeline here. It can cause environmental and health risks. I recently visited the Seafood Festival that was being held at the harbor a few weeks ago and saw some seals and sea lions, and I couldn't help but think about them potentially dying due to Sable's negligence and inability to cover another large oil spill. They also won't affect Santa Barbara's economy for a long while since they aren't making money and are broke, they generally don't care about rules and regulations and have expressed foolhardiness with illegal construction, they aren't even based in California in the first place, and they plan on exporting the oil they want to extract here offshore, so we the residents don't benefit AT ALL from Sable's presence here.

Protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Sincerely,

Robin Odega

Dear supervisors,

My name is Noah Nikolai, and I am very concerned about the restart of the pipeline owned by the Sable Offshore Corporation.

It's abundantly clear that restarting this pipeline poses a risk to the natural habitat as the State Fire Marshal has stated that Sable does not meet the requirements to receive a permit to restart. One disaster should be more than enough to learn our lesson and the consequences for the next one won't be any lesser. Sable has not provided any assurances they would pay for another cleanup and would be unlikely to even have the capital to avoid bankruptcy in that situation.

The ocean has been as much a home as any house to many and many others, particularly here in Santa Barbara. A decision to allow the restarting of this pipeline jeopardizes the health of everyone who comes into contact with the ocean, not to mention the fragile ecosystem and viability of Santa Barbara as a destination for tourism, investment, and development. Our coastline and oceans have suffered enough and need to be protected as we face the onset of climate change effects.

I hope you recognize the importance of this decision and take this opportunity to protect the waters we will all have to live with.

Sincerely,
Noah Nikolai

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Sofia Manzano, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corporation. I urge the Board of Supervisors to deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez Unit, POPCO gas plant, and Las Flores pipeline.

Restarting these oil facilities would put our coastline, marine life, and local communities at risk. We have already seen the long-lasting damage that oil spills can cause to our beaches, water, and wildlife. Bringing this aging infrastructure back online increases the chances of leaks, pollution, and other environmental hazards.

On a personal level, I do not want an oil operation so close to where we live. It threatens our air quality, property values, and sense of safety. Our community deserves clean energy solutions, not the return of risky fossil fuel operations.

Please stand with residents and protect the safety and future of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Sofia Manzano

Dear supervisors,

My name is Devin Merchant, and I have concerns regarding the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp.

The Board of Supervisors should deny Sable's application to transfer permits for the Santa Ynez Unit, POPCO Gas Plant, and Las Flores Pipelines.

At every stop, Sable doesn't comply with laws or regulations. They have previously ignored cease and desist orders, acted without acquiring required permits, and failed to notify the state lands commission before conducting well-testing activities. They have never shown signs of caution, which puts us, Santa Barbara residents, in danger if they are allowed to transfer these permits.

Sable is also actively entertaining the idea of offshore oil barging, which would violate the terms of the SYU final development permit. Sable should have to prove to the people that they are trustworthy enough to keep Californians safe. They are yet to show the capacity for doing that.

We must protect the future and wellbeing of Californians by NOT allowing Sable Offshore, a Texas-based company, to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Thanks,
Devin Merchant

Dear Supervisors,

My name is Nina Robinson, and I am concerned about the potential restart of the pipeline owned by Sable Offshore Corp. This concern comes from the likelihood that Sable cannot afford to cover the cost of remediation when/if another major spill occurs. In this case the public shouldn't have to pay to cleanup another spill. Additionally, I think knowingly putting the environment at such a high risk is unethical and clearly not supporting California's sustainability goals. Protect the safety and future of Californians by not allowing Sable Offshore to restart the pipeline in Santa Barbara County.

Sincerely,
Nina Robinson

Dear Santa Barbara County Board of Supervisors,

Please deny the permit transfer. I have been a resident of Santa Barbara for over 30 years and remember the oil spills and all of the environmental destruction. There are plenty of sources of alternative and sustainable energy. In addition, there is an over supply of oil on the world market. Why risk this valuable and beautiful resource.

Dear SB County Supervisors -

I urge you not to approve transfer of Exxon's oil and gas ownership to Sable Offshore Corporation. Santa Barbara's coastal environment is too precious to squander. Sable has already proven itself to be untrustworthy in many ways, as evidenced by its violation of multiple cease-and-desist orders, its unpermitted damage to sensitive coastal habitats, by CA Coastal Commission's imposition of fines, and by CA's lawsuit over illegal waste discharges.

I am a longtime Santa Barbara resident who values our ocean's health. My grandchildren live here, and I urge you to be good stewards of our natural resources for future generations.

Please DENY the transfer of Exxon's permits to Sable.

Thank you.

Dear Members of the Board:

I am writing today to urge you to VOTE NO ON THE TRANSFER OF PERMITS FROM EXXON TO SABLE.

I am a life-long local resident who first hand experienced the damaging impacts of the Refugio Oil Spill, personally witnessing massive damage to the coastal environment from just north of Refugio all the way down the coast. I watched as the oil spewed into the ocean, saw birds covered in oil, and saw remnants of this spill both in ocean waters and along various beaches from Refugio to El Capitan to Naples for YEARS after the last spill. This spill should serve as a strong reminder of the dangers these pipelines pose.

It has therefore been deeply disturbing to personally witness the rogue work of Sable, particularly over the past 12 months. I frequently drive the 101 along the Gaviota coast, both for work and for recreation, and I have personally observed their teams working in the area, often in the early morning hours and on weekends, seemingly in an attempt to hide their actions. Sable's violations of the Water Code and RWQCB's directives are part of a broader pattern of disregarding state law and regulation, and this should absolutely disqualify them from operating in Santa Barbara County.

Sable's conduct speaks for itself: they have brazenly broken County and State laws, and shown a tremendous level of disregard for the local community and the rule of law. Therefore, the proposed transfer from Exxon to Sable should be blocked.

Sincerely,

Loren Butler
Lompoc, CA

Dear Chair and Members of the Board,

I'm writing to express my strong opposition to transferring Exxon's oil and gas permits to Sable Offshore Corporation.

Sable's record of environmental violations and disregard for California law should give us all pause. Approving this transfer would allow them to restart aging offshore platforms, onshore facilities, and the same pipeline that ruptured ten years ago, spilling more than 140,000 gallons of oil along the Gaviota Coast.

That spill devastated wildlife, shut down local fisheries, and left lasting scars on one of California's most beautiful stretches of coastline. We cannot invite that risk back into our community.

A federal court has already recognized concerns about Sable's capabilities and judgment. Now it's up to the County to protect our coastline, our wildlife, and the people who live here.

Please deny this transfer. Our community deserves a future free from another preventable disaster.

Sincerely,

Alexandra VanAntwerp
