This is a comprehensive breakthrough study showing which states had the best outcomes for their citizens based on their Covid response. California is one of the worst states.

It turns out that the states with the most restrictive Covid policies had more Covid deaths, more over all mortality, more suicides, more loss of business and worse education outcomes for children. How does it feel to be overseeing and in charge of implementing the policies that caused the most harm to the people and children you were supposed to protect?

The Daily Mail is a liberal UK newspaper but they authenticated the Hunter laptop about a year before the NY Times and Wa Post did. If you don't trust the source..go directly to the study and read it yourself.
