I am told that I need to send a written resignation for the HLAC position. I hadn't realized that I had been appointed to the position. I had left a voicemail weeks ago with Lia Graham stating that I didn't think that HLAC was a good fit for me, and that I was declining. I am still interested in the NBAR if a vacancy becomes available.

I believe you need to email a formal letter of resignation since the Board of Supervisors took action to appoint you. I have seen resignation letters that are pages long and others that are a simple sentence. If you could possibly reach out to the staff member you worked with to submit your application that would be great.

Happy New Year ☺

Lia

Hi Lia,

I thought that I had already declined the HLAC position because it is too far away. No, I haven't heard anything yet on the NBAR, but I'm still very interested..

Happy New Year,

Betty

Hi Betty,

Just checking in with you, have you formally resigned from HLAC? Did you receive any news regarding your NBAR application?
