EXHIBIT A

REVISED STATEMENT OF WORK

BACKGROUND

Authority for the operation of 211 Helpline Service using the three-digit dialing code was first enacted by the Federal Communication Commission (FCC) in 2000. The FCC found that there was a demonstration of sufficient public benefit to justify the use of scarce resources and assigned 211 to be used for access to community information and referral services. The FCC charged each state with the task of implementing the program. The FCC's regulatory framework was based upon the set of national program and operational standards put forward by the United Way of America and the Alliance of Information and Referral Services, the two major national leaders in the 211 movement.

In California, the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) is responsible for the operation, oversight, regulation and authority for 211. The services are typically carried out by local organizations approved by the CPUC to use the 211 dialing code to serve specific counties. Information and referral centers seeking to utilize the 211 dialing code apply to the CPUC for rights to use the service. A CPUC ruling states, "The use of the 211 dialing code has the potential to provide California with easy access to information concerning child care services, housing assistance, physical and mental health resources, aging and hospice services, educational and other programs. Such information is not currently available through the 911 emergency code or the 311 non-emergency code." Currently, 93 percent of the state's population has access to 211. Nationally, 211 covers 82 percent of the US population.

211 was implemented in Santa Barbara County in 2005. Until June of 2013, the Family Services Agency served as the local host organization for the 211 Helpline Service to the community. Over 16,000 calls annually were received in Santa Barbara County with FSA posting a 93% citizen satisfaction rating. The service provides multilingual (150 languages) access to health and human services 24 hours a day, seven days a week, at no cost to the caller. The 211 Helpline Service is available to every resident of Santa Barbara County allowing access to over 2,000 health and human services and disaster relief and public information countywide.

Great support was expressed for the need for and the continuation of the 211 Helpline Service. Given the support expressed by the community, the County Executive Office continued to work with multiple stakeholders to sustain the 211 Helpline Service.

The Community Action Commission of Santa Barbara County dba CommUnify has an ongoing role as the 211 local community host and 211 Helpline Service. The 211 Helpline Service also provides local disaster response public information to the Santa Barbara County community at large. This program operates as a free resource on behalf of all County residents 24 hours a day, seven days a week, in over 150 languages.

As the County continues to respond to COVID-19, there is an increased need for ongoing support for the 211 Helpline Service. The Santa Barbara County Board of Supervisors adopted a contract with the County Emergency Management Office (OEM) and the Joint Information Center (JIC) on September 20, 2020 to provide additional funding for the COVID-19 related information and referral calls.
