- (i) A probationary period of one year for newly-hired employees in each class, except as otherwise provided in the Civil Service Rules, during which the probationer shall serve "at will" and may be rejected without any right to hearing or appeal. A rejected promotional probationer shall be reinstated to the position from which he or she was promoted;

- (n) Layoff procedures to be followed whenever the board of supervisors in good faith finds it necessary and for the welfare of the county to discontinue, temporarily or permanently, any position in the classified service; which procedures shall provide, among other things, for layoff eligibility and reinstatement of the laid-off employee when such position is reactivated;
- (o) Open hearings on the approval of rules and amendments to rules, and on other matters as required by law; and
- (p) Employee training.

Sec. 27-27. - Dismissal, suspension, demotion, or reduction in compensation.

- (a) This section shall apply only to officers and employees who, by their permanent status in the classified civil service, have the right to appeal disciplinary action to the civil service commission.
- (b) Any officer or employee may be dismissed, suspended, demoted, or reduced in compensation by the appointing authority for just cause, after appointment or promotion is complete, by a written order stating specifically the reasons for the action. The order shall be filed with the county human resources director and a copy thereof shall be served upon the officer or employee.
- (c) Within ten working days after receiving the order, the officer or employee may reply to it in writing. The reply shall be directed to the county human resources director. Such reply shall constitute an appeal to the order, and the county human resources director shall forthwith transmit the order and appeal to the civil service commission for hearing.
- (d) Within twenty days from the filing of the appeal the commission shall commence a hearing, and following the hearing shall either affirm, modify or revoke the order. The appellant may appear personally, produce evidence, and have counsel and a public hearing. Failure to commence a hearing within the time specified in this subsection shall not affect the jurisdiction of the commission.
- (e) The commission shall have the power to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum, and compensate persons subpoenaed. This power shall be exercised and enforced in the same manner as the similar power granted to the board of supervisors in Government Code sections 25170 et seq.; except that: (1) such power shall extend only to matters within the commission's lawful jurisdiction; (2) committees of the commission shall not have this power; and (3) civil service rules may provide for reasonable fees or expenses, or both, for any or all such witnesses, regardless of which party subpoenaed them. Subpoenas shall be signed by the commission chair or secretary. Any commissioner, or any person otherwise so empowered, may administer oaths to, or take affirmations from, witnesses before the commission.
- (f) The commission may employ a hearing officer to act as the presiding officer. The procedure and rules of evidence at the hearing shall be relatively informal, but shall conform to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (Gov. Code, § 11370 et seq.) except as otherwise provided in this article or the civil service rules.
- (g) Following the hearing, the commission shall issue a written decision affirming, revoking, or modifying the order of the appointing authority. If the commission modifies the order, the modification shall not increase the disciplinary action ordered by the appointing authority. The decision shall state with specificity the evidence relied upon and the reasons for each finding.

- (h) If the commission revokes or modifies an order discharging, demoting, or reducing the pay grade of an appellant, the commission may direct the appointing authority to reinstate the appellant to the appellant's previous position and pay grade, and must award the appellant appropriate back pay. For purposes of this section, "back pay" has the same definition as in the regulations implementing the California State Civil Service Act (2 CCR 51.2, subd. (i)), except that overtime pay may be included in a back pay award if the overtime pay is pensionable under current law.
- (i) The findings and decision of the commission shall be certified to, and forthwith enforced and followed by, the appointing authority. The decision of the commission shall be final, except as otherwise provided by law.

Sec. 27-28. - Equal employment opportunity.

All persons in the classified service or seeking admission thereto shall be afforded equal employment opportunity under the law. Permanent employees in the classified service who allege unlawful employment discrimination, unlawful harassment, or unlawful retaliation may appeal to the civil service commission as provided by the civil service rules.

Sec. 27-29. - Amendment and repeal.

No amendment repealing this article in its entirety, or nullifying any basic principles or objectives of the civil service system stated in section 27-21 of this article, shall be effective unless such a proposition of its repeal or amendment shall first have been submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the county at a general or special election and shall have received the affirmative vote of a majority of the electors voting on the proposition. In all other respects, this article may be amended from time to time by a four-fifths vote of the board of supervisors, provided, however that any amendment exempting a position or positions from the classified service shall be made only in connection with structural reorganization of county government or a department thereof undertaken in the interest of efficiency and economy.

Sec. 27-30. - Compensation and expenses of commissioners.

For each commission meeting attended, a commissioner shall receive one hundred dollars per day, in addition to mileage reimbursement at a reasonable rate for traveling from their place of residence to the meeting and return, provided that mileage reimbursement shall not be paid for any meeting outside the county. For purposes of this section, "meeting" includes commission hearings.
